

If you keep on arriving late for work, you're....	...going to get the sack.
Keep away from that dog. He's...	...going to bite someone.
Look at those clouds. It's....	...going to rain.
Look at Tom. He keeps yawning. He's....	...going to fall asleep.
Move that glass away from the edge of the table. It's...	...going to fall off.
If you don't revise, you're....	...going to fail the test.
If you don't slow down, we're...	...going to crash.
Oh no! I've broken a window. Mum's....	...going to be furious.
Your shoelaces are undone again. You're....	...going to fall over.
Those prawns tasted awful. I don't feel too good. I think I'm...	...going to be sick.
You left the air conditioning on again yesterday. We're...	...going to get a huge electric bill.
Why do you always put your wallet in your back pocket? It's....	...going to get stolen.
If you keep walking around reading your phone, you're...	...going to walk into a lamppost.
If you keep stuffing yourself with snacks, you're...	...going to get fat.
It's pouring with rain. If you don't take your umbrella, you're...	...going to get soaked.
If we don't improve sales, the company is....	...going to go bust.
