

Reporting verbs - dominoes matching

that the new model would be launched in May.	The driver admitted	that she had not been paying attention.	The organisers confirmed that the event had been cancelled.	Her teacher encouraged	her to go to university.	The sales assistant persuaded me to buy the more expensive model.	The defendant claimed	he had been at home at the time of the robbery.	The doctor advised him to cut down on sugar and salt.	I convinced	my boss that my idea would work.	The hotel manager suggested that we should visit the history museum.	The travel agent explained	that we would have to change trains in London.	The students complained that the teacher spoke too quickly.	The manager assured	us that everything would be fine.	A spokesperson for the company announced